Profile 1	Founder's Office Associate
About the Role	We are looking for a highly adaptable and proactive Founder's Office Associate with a technical background. This role involves working directly with leadership to optimise existing processes, set up new workflows, troubleshoot operational bottlenecks, and drive data-driven decision-making.
Profile 2	AI Knowledge Manager
Position Overview	MyOperator seeks a strategic AI Knowledge Manager to join our Founder's Office team. This role is responsible for managing and organising information that powers our AI systems, chatbots, and internal collaboration platforms. You will serve as the central architect of our organizational knowledge ecosystem, ensuring information is effectively structured and accessible for both customer-facing AI interactions and internal operations. The position requires critical thinking, analytical abilities, and collaborative skills to identify, capture, and organise knowledge from across departments into a unified, AI-ready knowledge management system. This knowledge will become the central repository for documentation and process understanding, directly impacting how our AI systems learn, adapt, and serve customers.
